

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair is obligated by law to serve the public interest. If they want to serve the public interest here, they need to give Kerry equal time on issues that he finds compelling. This is an organization that has NOT strived to be impartial. Therefore it is my hope that you will not only block this event, but block renewal of all of their licenses.

When large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy. Instead of something produced at "News Central" far away, it's more important that we see real people from our own communities and more substantive news about issues that matter.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
